

Pavlo Kolosovskyi

A background in business and engineering, with years of experience in company management, sales and real estate. Today I combine that with content people actually understand and with analysis you can rely on.

FOCUS AREAS

Content & media

Concepts, copy, short video, photography and presentations – from the idea to the finished format.

B2B & technical

Complex products from construction, metal and real estate explained clearly and convincingly.

Data & AI

Sourcing figures, checking them and presenting them so a decision can be built on them.

WORK SAMPLE – VERIFIABLE

Regionaler Saison-Abweichungsindex

Is unemployment in a district rising faster than the season explains? That figure is published officially for Germany and the federal states, but not for the districts. I calculated it myself – via the Federal Employment Agency interface, updated automatically each month – and validated the method where the official series does exist.
